

Mary Rybicki, MS, RD, LDN, is a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist with diverse clinical and management experience in post-acute care settings. She is Editor-in-chief of the NCM Diet Manual and has incorporated the IDDSI texture modified diet levels. Mary has worked within multiple healthcare settings for quality improvement processes of texture modified foods and with the transition to IDDSI. She has presented on the IDDSI topic within variable settings and is a volunteer on the United States IDDSI Reference Group (USIRG). Mary has an MS in Dietetics from MGH Institute of Health Professions and a MMHS, Master of Management of Human Services, from Brandeis University. She has held multiple leadership positions with the national DHCC DPG and remains active at the state level. Mary Rybicki, MS, RDN, LDN Disclosures: I am occasionally a paid consultant for IDDSI content, teaching, and feedback on manufacturing products. I am the Editor-In-Chief of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' NCM Diet Manual. Non-financial disclosures: I am a volunteer for over 2 years with the USIRG, United States IDDSI Reference Group.

Katrina Woodward, MS, CCC-SLP, CDP is a speech pathologist and Chief Administrative Officer of New England's mobile Fiberoptic Endoscopic Evaluation of Swallowing (FEES) provider, SDX Dysphagia Experts. Katrina recently piloted a graduate student dysphagia clinic at the University of Rhode Island and is a paid speaker and blogger for Thick-It through Roche Dietitians of Chicago. Katrina is the VP of Education & Planning to MSHA, a member of the NH LTC Foundation board, and has volunteered with the US IDDSI group (USIRG) for over 2 years, co-chairing the Communications & Advocacy Committee.